collection of critical essays about elie wiesel s holocaust memoir night

a new translation from the french by marion wiesel night is elie wiesel s masterpiece a candid horrific and deeply poignant autobiographical account of his survival as a teenager in the nazi death camps this new translation by marion wiesel elie s wife and frequent translator presents this seminal memoir in the language and spirit truest to the author s original intent and in a substantive new preface elie reflects on the enduring importance of night and his lifelong passionate dedication to ensuring that the world never forgets man s capacity for inhumanity to man night offers much more than a litany of the daily terrors everyday perversions and rampant sadism at auschwitz and buchenwald it also eloquently addresses many of the philosophical as well as personal questions implicit in any serious consideration of what the holocaust was what it meant and what its legacy is and will be elie wiesel is an internationally known author human rights advocate and lecturer night his first book 1956 in yiddish 1958 in french 1960 in english a new english translation appeared in 2006 has become a classic memoir of a jewish survivor of the holocaust the seventeen essays of this volume in the mla series approaches to teaching world literature examine the historical cultural and literary contexts of wiesel s book as well as strategies for teaching it in the classroom part 1 materials provides resources on the jewish ghettos and concentration camps of world war ii on the jewish faith and religious practices on the genre of victims diaries on the critical reception of night on wiesel s other work and on available audiovisual materials part 2 approaches addresses many subjects among them wiesel s narrative techniques the representation of auschwitz the use of different languages the comparison of wiesel with primo levi the problems of memory and bearing witness the christian response to the holocaust and the challenge of teaching a grim and painful text to students

i died at auschwitz french writer charlotte delbo asserts and nobody knows it m[?] bian nights reading literature and darkness develops a new understanding of literary reading that in the wake of disasters like the holocaust death remains a premise of our experience rather than a future challenging customary aesthetic assumptions that we write in order not to die sandor goodhart suggests with kafka we write to die drawing upon analyses developed by girard foucault blanchot and levinas along with examples from homer to beckett m[?] bian nights proposes that all literature works autobiographically which is to say in the wake of disaster with the credo i died therefore i am and for which the language of topology for example the m[?] bius strip offers a vocabulary for naming the deep structure of such literary critical and scriptural sacrificial and anti sacrificial dynamics fantasies of witnessing explores how and why those deeply interested in the holocaust yet with no direct familial connection to it endeavor to experience it vicariously through sites or texts designed to make it real for nonwitnesses gary weissman argues that far from overwhelming nonwitnesses with its magnitude of horror the holocaust threatens to feel distant and unreal a prevailing rhetoric of secondary memory and trauma he contends and efforts to portray the holocaust as an immediate and personal experience are responses to an encroaching sense of unreality in america we are haunted not by the traumatic impact of the holocaust but by its absence when we take an interest in the holocaust we are not overcoming a fearful aversion to its horror but endeavoring to actually feel the horror of what otherwise eludes us weissman focuses on specific attempts to locate the holocaust in the person of elie wiesel the most renowned survivor and his classic memoir night in videotaped survivor stories and lawrence l langer s celebrated book holocaust testimonies and in the films shoah and schindler s list these representations he explains constitute a movement away from the view popularized by wiesel that those who did not live through the holocaust will never be able to grasp its horror and toward re creating the holocaust as an experience nonwitnesses may put themselves through it is only by acknowledging the desire that gives shape to such representations and by exploring their place in the ongoing contest over who really knows the holocaust and feels its horror that we can arrive at a more candid assessment of our current and future relationships to the holocaust he says wiesel s account of his survival as a teenager in the nazi death camps including a new preface is which he reflects on the enduring importance of night and his lifelong passionate dedication to ensuring that the world never forgets man s capacity for inhumanity to man
