in slightly slower 66 john mulhern iii writes about traveling a total of 6 094 miles in fifteen days including eight wonderful days on route 66 itself the route goes through sixteen widely and wildly different states including not only stops in the big cities of chicago santa fe los angeles and denver but also nights spent in the small cities and towns of tucumcari holbrook and barstow the expected adventures on the road yield to visits with friends old and new encounters with various other corvettes and other vehicles of interest and more than a few great places to eat sometimes in the most unexpected places

this book calls for a re evaluation of the films of robert rossen over a 30 year period he was the most accomplished writer and director who was also a longtime member of the communist party but his achievement has not been recognized his films have been belittled or ignored his legacy denied rossen s films reflected his times and the american scene with a dramatic intensity and personal expression unmatched by any other filmmaker of the period the stages of his political journey from idealism about communism to his rebellion against the party s betrayal of those ideals influenced the rendering of his concerns and themes the flaws of human nature the complexities of motives the paradoxes of betrayal personal and political yet rossen testified against his fellow filmmakers and so his morals and character have been denounced his work diminished as fatally marred by his moral flaws the opposite is true here is a thorough analysis of each of his 22 films and their place in the developing themes of his body of work it integrates this study of the films with a documented narrative of his relationship to the party its history and conflicts its duplicities especially the relations of the party and its followers to the oppressions of the soviet union and so it challenges the validity of the conventional wisdom about the moral issues of the blacklist period
